Information Concerning Investment Risk

Noteholders and prospective purchasers of Notes should ensure that they understand the nature of the Notes and the extent of their exposure to risk and that they consider the suitability of the Notes as an investment in the light of their own circumstances and financial condition.

In purchasing any Notes, purchasers will be deemed to represent and undertake to the Issuer, Dealer and each of their affiliates that (i) such purchaser understands the risks and potential consequences associated with the purchase of the Notes and (ii) that such purchaser has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, investment, accounting, tax and other advisers to extent it believes is appropriate to assist it in understanding and evaluating the risks involved in, and the consequences of, purchasing the Notes.

Potential investors are urged to consult with their legal, regulatory, investment, accounting, tax and other advisors with regard to any proposed or actual investment in the Notes and to review the Offering Circular. Please see the Offering Circular together with this Pricing Supplement for a full detailed description of the Notes and in particular, please review the Risk Factors associated with these Notes. Investing in the Notes entails certain risks including, but not limited to, the following:

Adjustments by the Determination Agent: The terms and conditions of the Notes will allow the Determination Agent to make adjustments or take any other appropriate action if circumstances occur where the Notes or any exchanges are affected by market disruption, adjustment events or circumstances affecting normal activities.

Credit Risk: Investors are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer. The Notes are essentially a loan to the Issuer with a repayment amount that the Issuer promises to pay to you at maturity. There is the risk, however, that the Issuer may not be able to fulfil its promise to you. If any companies in the Morgan Stanley group incur losses with respect to any of their activities, this may have a negative impact on the financial condition of the Issuer. You may lose all or part of your investment if the Issuer is unable to pay the redemption amount and/or goes into liquidation. No assets of the Issuer are segregated and specifically set aside in order to pay the holders of the Notes in the event of liquidation of the Issuer, and the holders of the Notes will rank behind creditors who have priority rights over certain assets of the Issuer.

Market Risk: The Notes are denominated, and all payments will be made, in Australian Dollars. There are risks inherent in investments in notes denominated and payable in Australian Dollars for investors whose home and/or functional currency is not Australian Dollars. You should consult your financial, legal and tax advisers as to any specific risks entailed by an investment in notes that are denominated and payable in a currency other than the currency of the country in which you are resident or in which you conduct your business. We refer to such country as your “home country” and to the currency of your home country as your “home currency”.

Exit Risk: The secondary market price of the Notes will depend on many factors, including interest rates, FX rates, interest rate volatility, time remaining to maturity and the creditworthiness of the Issuer. Depending on the actual or anticipated level of the reference rate, the market value of the notes may decrease and you may receive substantially less than 100% of the issue price if you sell your notes prior to maturity.

Liquidity Risk: The Notes will not be traded on an organised exchange. Any secondary market in the Notes made by the Dealer will be made on a reasonable efforts basis only and subject to market conditions, law, regulation and internal policy. Even whilst there may be a secondary market in the Notes it may not be liquid enough to facilitate a sale by the holder.

The Notes are subject to the Issuer’s redemption right: The term of the Notes will be limited by the Issuer’s right to redeem the Notes at its option on a specified date if and only if certain pre-defined condition is met. As a result, the term of the Noteholder’s investment in the Notes may be less than the original tenor of the Notes. It is more likely that the Issuer will redeem the Notes when it would be advantageous for Noteholders to continue to hold the Notes. If the Notes are redeemed prior to maturity, the Noteholders may be forced to invest in a lower interest rate environment and may not be able to reinvest at comparable terms or returns.

Hedging Risk: On or prior to and after the Trade Date, the Issuer, through its affiliates or others, will likely hedge its anticipated exposure under the Notes by taking positions in the Underlying, in option contracts on the Underlying or positions in any other available securities or instruments. In addition, the Issuer and its affiliates trade the Underlying as part of their general businesses. Any of these activities could potentially affect the value of the Underlying, and accordingly, could affect the payout to holders on the Notes.

Potential Conflict of Interest: The Determination Agent (MSI plc) is an affiliate of the Issuer and the economic interests of the Determination Agent may be adverse to the interests of holders of the Notes. Determinations made by the Determination Agent may affect the amount payable to holders pursuant to the terms of the Notes.

Accounting Considerations: Special accounting considerations may apply to certain types of investors. Prospective investors are urged to consult with their own accounting advisors to determine implications of this investment.

Morgan Stanley Finance LLC is not qualified to give legal, tax or accounting advice to its clients and does not purport to do so in this document. Clients are urged to seek the advice of their own professional advisers about the consequences of the proposals contained herein.
