Information Concerning Investment Risk

Noteholders and prospective purchasers of Notes should ensure that they understand the nature of the Notes and the extent of their exposure to risk and that they consider the suitability of the Notes as an investment in the light of their own circumstances and financial condition. Given the highly specialised nature of these Notes, the Issuer and the Dealer consider that they are only suitable for highly sophisticated investors who are able to determine for themselves the risk of an investment in the Notes and who are willing to take such risks. Consequently, if you are not an investor who falls within the description above you should not consider purchasing these Notes without taking detailed advice from a specialised professional adviser.

Please review the Offering Circular together with this Pricing Supplement for a full detailed description of the Notes and in particular, please review the Risk Factors in the Offering Circular. Investing in the Notes entails certain risks including, but not limited to, the following:

Structure Specific Risks

Capital protection at maturity: Capital protection is provided at maturity only. If the Notes are sold prior to maturity, or redeemed by the Issuer for reasons stated in the Offering Circular and this document, the proceeds may be less than the initial investment.

There may be little or no interest payments on the Notes: If, on any Interest Determination Date in respect to an Interest Period, the level of the Reference Rate is less than the Minimum Strike or greater than the Maximum Strike, interest will accrue at a rate of 0.00% per annum for that Interest Period. It is possible that the level of the Reference Rate will be less than the Minimum Strike or greater than the Maximum Strike for many Interest Determination Dates, that the interest payments paid on the Notes will be less than the amount that would be paid on an ordinary debt security of the issuer with a comparable maturity and may be zero. To the extent that the level of the Reference Rate is less than the Minimum Strike or greater than the Maximum Strike, the market value of the Notes may decrease and you may receive substantially less than 100% of the Issue Price if you wish to sell your Notes at such time.

Underlyings Specific Risks

The historical performance of the Underlying are not an indication of future performance. Historical performance of the Reference Rate (the “Underlying”) should not be taken as an indication of their future performance during the term of the Notes. Changes in the levels of the Underlying will affect the trading price of the Notes, but it is impossible to predict whether such levels will rise or fall.

The Underlying will be affected by a number of factors. A number of factors can affect the Underlying, including but not limited to: (i) changes in, or perceptions, about the future Underlying; (ii) general economic conditions: the economic, financial, political, regulatory and judicial events that affect financial markets generally will affect the Underlying; (iii) prevailing interest rates: the Underlying are subject to daily fluctuations depending on prevailing interest rates in the market generally; and (iv) policies of the governing bodies regarding interest rates. These and other factors may have a negative impact on the value of the Notes prior to maturity.

Reference Rate Reform. The London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR), the Euro Interbank Offered Rate (EURIBOR) and other indices which are deemed “benchmarks” are the subject of recent national, international and other regulatory guidance and proposals for reform. Some of these reforms are already effective while others are still to be implemented. These reforms may cause such “benchmarks” to perform differently than in the past, or to disappear entirely, or have other consequences which cannot be predicted. Any such consequence could have a material adverse effect on any Notes linked to a “benchmark.”

Any of the international, national or other proposals for reform or the general increased regulatory scrutiny of “benchmarks” could increase the costs and risks of administering or otherwise participating in the setting of a “benchmark” and complying with any such regulations or requirements. Such factors may have the effect of discouraging market participants from continuing to administer or participate in certain “benchmarks,” trigger changes in the rules or methodologies used in certain “benchmarks” or lead to the disappearance of certain “benchmarks”. The disappearance of a “benchmark” or changes in the manner of administration of a “benchmark” could have materially adverse consequences in relation to securities linked to such “benchmark”. Any such consequence could have a material adverse effect on the value of and return on the Notes.

Potential replacement of LIBOR may adversely affect the return on the Notes and their secondary market prices. Central banks around the world, including the U.S. Federal Reserve, have commissioned working groups that include market participants (the “Alternative Rate Committees”) with the goal of finding suitable replacements for their currency’s LIBOR that are based on observable market transactions. The search for replacements accelerated after the Financial Stability Board reported that uncertainty surrounding the integrity of LIBOR represents a potentially serious systemic vulnerability and risk due to limited transactions in the underlying inter-bank lending market. In July 2017, the Chief Executive of the United Kingdom Financial Conduct Authority (the “FCA”), which regulates LIBOR, called for an orderly transition over a 4-5 year period from LIBOR to the reference rates selected by the Alternative Rate Committees. The FCA’s announcement stated that it expects that it would not be in a position to sustain LIBOR through its influence or legal compulsion powers after the end of 2021. Any transition away from LIBOR, as well as the uncertainty surrounding the future of LIBOR and future regulatory and market developments, could have a materially adverse effect on the return on the Notes and their secondary market prices.

LIBOR discontinuance or prohibition on use may lead to adjustments to the terms of the Notes or an early redemption of the Notes. In order to address the risk of a possible discontinuance of LIBOR (referred to above), the Conditions of the Notes will include certain fallback provisions. The fallback provisions will be triggered if the Determination Agent determines that (i) the administrator or regulatory supervisor (or other applicable regulatory body) in connection with the Reference Rate announces that the administrator has ceased or will cease permanently or indefinitely to provide such Reference Rate and there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Reference Rate, or (ii) an Administrator/Benchmark Event occurs in relation to such Reference Rate

Following the occurrence of any of these events the Determination Agent may replace the Reference Rate with an alternative rate that is consistent with accepted market practice for debt obligations such as the Notes. If an alternative rate is used then the Determination Agent may also make other adjustments to the Notes, including to the new rate, which are consistent with accepted market practice. If the Determination Agent is unable to identify an alternative rate and determine the necessary adjustments to the terms of the Notes then the Issuer may redeem the Notes.

Administrator/Benchmark Event. The administrator or sponsor of the Reference Rate (or the Reference Rate) may be required to be authorised, registered, recognised, endorsed or otherwise included in an official register in order for the Issuer or the Determination Agent to be permitted to use it and perform their respective obligations under the Notes. If the Determination Agent determines that such a requirement applies to the administrator or sponsor (or the Reference Rate) but it has not been satisfied then an “Administrator/Benchmark Event” will occur and the Determination Agent or the Issuer may then apply certain fallbacks. The fallbacks summarised in the risk factor entitled “LIBOR discontinuance or prohibition on use may lead to adjustments to the terms of the Notes or an early redemption of the Notes” above will apply.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity Risk: Any secondary market in the Notes made by the Dealer will be made on a reasonable efforts basis only and subject to market conditions, law, regulation and internal policy. Even whilst there may be a secondary market in the Notes it may not be liquid enough to facilitate a sale by the holders.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Potential Conflict of Interest: The Determination Agent, which is an affiliate of the Issuer, will make determinations with respect to the Notes. MSI plc and its affiliates may trade the Underlying on a regular basis as part of its general broker-dealer business and may also carry out hedging activities in relation to the Notes. Any of these activities could influence the Determination Agent’s determination of adjustments made to any Notes and any such trading activity could potentially affect the price of the Underlying and, accordingly, could affect the investor’s payment on any Notes.

Our affiliates may publish research that could affect the market value of the Notes: One or more of our affiliates may, at present or in the future, publish research reports with respect to movements in interest rates generally or the Reference Rate specifically. This research is modified from time to time without notice to you and may express opinions or provide recommendations that are inconsistent with purchasing or holding the Notes. Any of these activities may affect the market value of the Notes.

Hedging Risk: On or prior to and after the Trade Date, the Issuer, through its affiliates or others, will likely hedge its anticipated exposure under the Notes by taking positions in the Underlying, in option contracts on the Underlying or positions in any other available securities or instruments. In addition, the Issuer and its affiliates trade the Underlying as part of their general businesses. Any of these activities could potentially affect the value of the Underlying, and accordingly, could affect the payment to holders on the Notes.

Exit Risk

Exit Risk: Any secondary market price of the Notes will depend on many factors, including the value and volatility of the Underlying, interest rates, time remaining to maturity and the creditworthiness of the Issuer and Guarantor. The secondary market price may be lower than the market value of the issued Notes as at the Issue Date to take into account amounts paid to distributors and other intermediaries relating to the issue and sale of the Notes as well as amounts relating to the hedging of the Issuer's obligations. As a result of all of these factors, the holder may receive an amount in the secondary market which may be less than the then intrinsic market value of the Notes and which may also be less than the amount the holder would have received had the holder held the Notes through to maturity.

Issuer Specific Risks

Credit Risk: Investors are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer and Guarantor. The Notes are essentially a loan to the Issuer that the Issuer promises to pay to you at maturity (and that the Guarantor promises to pay if the Issuer fails to do so). There is the risk, however, that the Issuer and/or Guarantor may not be able to fulfil its promise to you. If any companies in the Morgan Stanley group incur losses with respect to any of their activities, this may have a negative impact on the financial condition of the Issuer and the Guarantor. You may lose all or part of your investment if the Issuer and/or Guarantor is unable to pay the coupons or the redemption amount and/or becomes insolvent. No assets of the Issuer or Guarantor are segregated and specifically set aside in order to pay the holders of the Notes in the event of the insolvency of the Issuer and/or Guarantor, and the holders of the Notes will rank behind creditors who have priority rights over certain assets of the Issuer.

Other Risks

Adjustments by the Determination Agent: The terms and conditions of the Notes will allow the Determination Agent to make adjustments or take any other appropriate action if circumstances occur where the Notes or any exchanges are affected by market disruption, adjustment events or circumstances affecting normal activities.

Tax and Accounting Considerations: Special tax and/or accounting considerations may apply to certain types of holders. Prospective investors are urged to consult with their own tax advisors and accounting advisors to determine any tax or accounting implications of this investment.

In purchasing any Notes, purchasers will be deemed to represent and undertake to the Issuer, the Dealer and each of their affiliates that (i) such purchaser understands the risks and potential consequences associated with the purchase of the Notes, (ii) that such purchaser has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, investment, accounting, tax and other advisers to extent it believes is appropriate to assist it in understanding and evaluating the risks involved in, and the consequences of, purchasing the Notes, and (iii) in accordance with the terms set out in Annex 1.

A Non-U.S. holder will be subject to U.S. withholding tax unless the beneficial owner of the Notes (or a financial institution holding the Notes on behalf of the beneficial owner) furnishes the appropriate Form W-8, on which the beneficial owner certifies under penalties of perjury that it is not a U.S. person. If withholding or deduction of taxes is required by law (regardless of whether a holder furnished an appropriate form), payments on the Notes will be made net of applicable withholding taxes, and Morgan Stanley will not be required to pay any additional amounts to Non-U.S. holders with respect to any taxes withheld.

Morgan Stanley is not qualified to give legal, tax or accounting advice to its clients and does not purport to do so in this document. Clients are urged to seek the advice of their own professional advisers about the consequences of the provisions contained herein.

The Determination Agent shall determine the Rate of Interest in accordance with the following formula:

- (i) If, on an Interest Determination Date, the Reference Rate is greater than the Minimum Strike and less than the

Maximum Strike:

Reference Rate + Spread; subject to the Minimum Interest Rate

(ii) Else:

0.00% per annum

Where:

“Interest Determination Date” means, for the purpose of determining the level of the Reference Rate applicable to an Interest Period, two (2) London Banking Days prior to the related Interest Reset Date at the start of such Interest Period.

“Interest Reset Date” means, each 30 January, 30 April, 30 July and 30 October, beginning on the Issue Date; provided that such Interest Reset Dates shall not be adjusted for non-Business Days.

“London Banking Day” means, any day on which commercial banks are open for general business (including dealings in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in London.

“Maximum Strike” means 4.25%.

“Minimum Strike” means 1.00%.

“Reference Rate” means, in respect of an Interest Period, 3-Month USD LIBOR, as determined by the Determination Agent as the rate equal to the Floating Rate (as defined in the 2006 ISDA Definitions) that would be determined by the Determination Agent under an interest rate swap transaction if the Determination Agent were acting as calculation agent for that interest rate swap transaction under the terms of an agreement incorporating the 2006 ISDA Definitions by reference to USD-LIBOR-BBA (as defined in the 2006 ISDA Definitions) with a designated maturity of 3 months, being the rate for deposits in U.S. Dollars for a period of 3 months which appears on the Thomson Reuters Screen “LIBOR01” (or any successor or replacement page) as of approximately 11:00 a.m., London time, on the day that is two London Banking Days preceding the first day of such Interest Period.

If such rate does not appear on the relevant page on the relevant date, or is, in the sole discretion of the Determination Agent, manifestly incorrect, the rate will equal a rate determined by the Determination Agent in good faith and acting in a commercially reasonable manner.

Notwithstanding the above, if there has been (i) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of LIBOR announcing that it has ceased or will cease to provide the Reference Rate permanently or indefinitely (and no successor administrator will continue to provide it) (ii) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of LIBOR, the central bank for the currency of the Reference Rate, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator of the Reference Rate, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator of the Reference Rate or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator of the Reference Rate which states that the administrator of the Reference Rate has ceased or will cease to provide the Reference Rate permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Reference Rate or (iii) a determination by the Determination Agent that any authorisation, registration, recognition, endorsement, equivalence decision, approval or inclusion in any official register in respect of the Reference Rate or the administrator or sponsor of the Reference Rate has not been, or will not be, obtained or has been, or will be, rejected, refused, suspended or withdrawn by the relevant competent authority or other relevant official body, in each case with the effect that any of the Issuer or the Determination Agent is not, or will not be, permitted under any applicable law or regulation to use the Reference Rate to perform its or their respective obligations in respect of the Notes (an "Administrator/Benchmark Event"), then the Determination Agent will use, as a substitute for the Reference Rate, and for each future Interest Determination Date, the alternative Reference Rate selected by the central bank, reserve bank, monetary authority or any similar institution (including any committee or working group thereof) in the jurisdiction of the applicable currency that is consistent with accepted market practice (the "Alternative Rate"). If the Determination Agent determines, after consultation with the Issuer, that no such Alternative Rate exists on the relevant date, it may, after consultation with the Issuer determine an alternative rate to be used as a substitute for the Reference Rate (which shall be the 'Alternative Rate'). The Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, make such adjustments to the Alternative Rate or the Spread, as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Interest Determination Dates and related provisions and definitions of the Notes, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes.

The Determination Agent shall not select any index, benchmark or price source as the Alternative Rate for the purposes of the above if it would be unlawful under any applicable law or regulation, contravene any applicable licensing requirements, or result in the Issuer or the Determination Agent being considered to be administering a benchmark, index or other price source whose production, publication, methodology or governance would subject the Determination Agent or the Issuer to material additional regulatory obligations which it is unwilling to undertake.

If the Determination Agent is unable to identify an Alternative Rate and the necessary adjustments to the terms of the Notes, then the Issuer may, in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Notes shall be redeemed as of any later date by payment of Fair Market Value Less Costs.

“Spread” means 1.17% .
