Information Concerning Investment Risk

Noteholders and prospective purchasers of Notes should ensure that they understand the nature of the Notes and the extent of their exposure to risk and that they consider the suitability of the Notes as an investment in the light of their own circumstances and financial condition.

In purchasing any Notes, purchasers will be deemed to represent and undertake to the Issuer, Dealer and each of their affiliates that (i) such purchaser understands the risks and potential consequences associated with the purchase of the Notes and (ii) that such purchaser has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, investment, accounting, tax and other advisers to extent it believes is appropriate to assist it in understanding and evaluating the risks involved in, and the consequences of, purchasing the Notes.

Potential investors are urged to consult with their legal, regulatory, investment, accounting, tax and other advisers with regard to any proposed or actual investment in the Notes and to review the Offering Circular. Please see the Offering Circular together with this Pricing Supplement for a full detailed description of the Notes and in particular, please review the Risk Factors associated with these Notes. Investing in the Notes entails certain risks including, but not limited to, the following:

Adjustments by the Determination Agent: The terms and conditions of the Notes will allow the Determination Agent to make adjustments or take any other appropriate action if circumstances occur where the Notes or any exchanges are affected by market disruption, adjustment events or circumstances affecting normal activities.

Credit Risk: Investors are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer. The Notes are essentially a loan to the Issuer with a repayment amount that the Issuer promises to pay to you at maturity. There is the risk, however, that the Issuer may not be able to fulfil its promise to you. If any companies in the Morgan Stanley group incur losses with respect to any of their activities, this may have a negative impact on the financial condition of the Issuer. You may lose all or part of your investment if the Issuer is unable to pay the redemption amount and/or goes into liquidation. No assets of the Issuer are segregated and specifically set aside in order to pay the holders of the Notes in the event of liquidation of the Issuer, and the holders of the Notes will rank behind creditors who have priority rights over certain assets of the Issuer.

Market Risk: The Notes are denominated, and all payments will be made, in Euro. There are risks inherent in investments in notes denominated and payable in Euro for investors whose home and/or functional currency is not Euro. You should consult your financial, legal and tax advisers as to any specific risks entailed by an investment in notes that are denominated and payable in a currency other than the currency of the country in which you are resident or in which you conduct your business. We refer to such country as your “home country” and to the currency of your home country as your “home currency”.

Exit Risk: The secondary market price of the Notes will depend on many factors, including interest rates, interest rate volatility, time remaining to maturity and the creditworthiness of the Issuer. Depending on the actual or anticipated level of any of the above, the market value of the notes may decrease and you may receive substantially less than 100% of the issue price if you sell your notes prior to maturity.

The Notes are Subject to the Issuer’s Redemption Right. The term of the Notes may be limited by the Issuer’s right to redeem the Notes at its option on certain dates. As a result, the term of the investor’s investment in the Notes may be less than the original tenor of the Notes. It is more likely that the Issuer will redeem the Notes when it would be advantageous for investors to continue to hold the Notes. If the Notes are redeemed prior to maturity, the investor may be forced to invest in a lower interest rate environment and may not be able to reinvest at comparable terms or returns.

Early Redemption for Taxation Reasons: The terms and conditions of the Notes allow the Issuer to redeem the Notes early if the Issuer is required to deduct or withhold any taxes in respect of its payments on the Notes. In such circumstances, Noteholders may receive less than the principal amount of the Notes upon such early redemption.

Liquidity Risk: Any secondary market in the Notes made by the Dealer will be made on a reasonable efforts basis only and subject to market conditions, law, regulation and internal policy. Even whilst there may be a secondary market in the Notes it may not be liquid enough to facilitate a sale by the holder.

Potential Conflict of Interest: The Determination Agent (MSI plc) is an affiliate of the Issuer and the economic interests of the Determination Agent may be adverse to the interests of holders of the Notes. Determinations made by the Determination Agent may affect the amount payable to holders pursuant to the terms of the Notes.

Tax Considerations: Special tax considerations may apply to certain types of taxpayers. Prospective investors are urged to consult with their own tax advisors to determine any tax implications of this investment.

Accounting Considerations: Special accounting considerations may apply to certain types of investors. Prospective investors are urged to consult with their own accounting advisors to determine implications of this investment.

Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc is not qualified to give legal, tax or accounting advice to its clients and does not purport to do so in this document. Clients are urged to seek the advice of their own professional advisers about the consequences of the proposals contained herein.
